

Please stop phone companies from imposing misleading charges on my monthly phone bill so I can accurately and fairly compare prices of phone services. I support the long overdue petition of the National Association of State Utility Consumer Advocates and endorsed by other consumer advocacy organizations, including Consumers Union. G Docket No. 04-208, Petition for Declaratory Ruling Regarding Truth-In-Billing and Billing Format. Many consumers feel as I do -- annoyed with a long list of new charges and frustrated with trying to compare prices when shopping for telecommunications service. Phone bills should be truthful, easy to read and easy to understand. Instead, the long distance and wireless bills are filled with surcharges with misleading names that imply the line items are mandated by law, when they are not, and other obfuscating pricing practices. Because these obfuscating practices are tolerated by the FCC, long distance and wireless phone companies are able to hide the true cost of service. These add-ons make the advertised price of service significantly and deceptively less than the amount of the check I have to write each month to pay the bill. Competition will not work if consumers cannot accurately compare prices. The FCC should immediately grant the NASUCA petition to investigate carrier practices related to line item charges on bills for wireline and wireless phone service; to declare certain practices in violation of the Commission's "Truth in Billing" Order and to prohibit carriers from imposing separate monthly fees, line items or surcharges unless expressly mandated by law or the charge is expressly authorized by a governmental authority. Just as grocers are now required to state price per ounce -or per--- so should telecom cos.
